HENRY I. COHEN.

There appears to be very little interest taken in the approaching election.

It is understood that Mayor Wheatley will not make any effort to be re-elected to his present position.

The election of an assessor will be the only thing which will live the campaign from present appearances.

It is a very peculiar thing that a game law cannot be framed which will meet with the requirements of the country and conform to the wishes of a majority of those who enjoy the sport of hunting instead of the pot hunters. The Battle Lake Review expresses the true sentiment when it says: "We learn that an amendment has been attached to the bill now pending in the legislature making the opening season for ducks from August 25th to April 25th. If such a law is passed it will take but a few years to settle the duck question in this state. Allow the market hunter to sneak around the little ponds and pick off the old birds in the spring, and there will be no need of a game law of any kind in the near future. Better prohibit the killing of game of all kinds for the next three or five years, than pass a bill like the one now under consideration. Game is not plenty in this state, and what there is should be protected from the market hunter."

Canfield's Latest. The following telegram has been sent from this city to the St. Paul papers:

A mysterious railroad survey is in progress, passing this city north and south, that give rise to belief that a big race is on to tap the country to the north, in the Grand Rapids direction, toward the boundary region. The line crosses the Northern Pacific, east of this place, near Red Cedar siding, and the stakes are set thus indicating that more than 50 miles of line had been run. The line crosses the Mississippi near the mouth of Willow, and the party was yesterday on Little Willow, in the Grand Rapids direction. From appearances the line has come from Milaca, or some point east of St. Cloud, and passed along the west shore of Mille Lacs lake. This would indicate that it was a Great Northern line, and heading for a short cut to Winnipeg, perhaps as a forestallment of the Duluth & Winnipeg. If this is true, it is so palpable an invasion of Northern Pacific territory that the fur is sure to fly, and our people would expect to see the Northern Pacific push out immediately for a short line north from this city.

Late News Notes.

There were only twelve cases of drunkenness before the courts atergus Falls during the past year.

Average daily wages paid brick layers in England is $1.25; average daily wages in the United States $0.50.

A woman of Safane, Sweden, has presented her husband, a laborer, with five daughters in 14 months, the first lot being twins and the last triplets.

It is not a record creditable to the railroads of our country that more people were killed by the last year than in any preceding year, and that there was an increase of 70 per cent. in the employees killed.

Up to date, 18 states have made appropriations for making exhibits at the Big Fair. The largest sum is given by Pennsylvania, $300,000. The smallest sum is $5,000, voted by Vermont. The average is $65,000.

It is estimated that there are in this country three million people supported wholly or partly by charity—or one in 20 of the population. This is bad, but the condition of people is worse in most other countries. How to treat this matter of pauperism is one of the great questions of the hour.

A storekeeper at Glenmore, Montgomery county, Pa., recently had two dozen boxes of axle-grease stolen from his place, and making an investigation, traced the theft to some Hungarians employed in a neighboring quarry. He visited their huts one day, and was shocked to find a box of his axle-grease on the table and Hungarians eating it on their bread in place of butter with great gusto.

The president of the Texas alliance says that the order in that state will not go into politics. So in other southern states. Southern alliance men will stand by the democratic party. The president of the alliance of the greatest state in the Union ought to know what he is talking about. It is in the northern states the alliance will have regular tickets in the field, with the object, of course, of defeating the republican party.

Dispatches state that Frank Murray, a Northern Pacific brakeman, is being held at Breckenridge on a charge of indecent assault preferred by a Miss Hisele. She charges that he took advantage of the fact that she and a friend were the only occupants of a car on the night of April 10th, and locked the doors, lowered the lights and annoyed her greatly.

The Northern Pacific Railroad company having secured the contract to carry the mails between St. Paul and the coast for the ensuing year has made arrangements to put on the fastest train ever run across the continent. The time to be made between terminals is to be something phenomenal, the attention at present contemplated being to make the distance in sixty hours. It will be a special train service independent of and in addition to the regular trains of the road, and will be known as "The White Mail," the cars to be attached to the engine to be painted pure white.—Northwest Magazine.

The republicans and alliance men combined and defeated the democrats in the house yesterday on the Keyes' election bill. As the bill is now an X will have to be put after each name voted for.

Not a Black Maria.

The method of getting around in the City of Venice is through the use of small boats called gondolas, and all painted black, the sombre color being maintained through some superstition that dates back several hundred years. These little boats are skillfully maneuvered among the many little islands and through the winding canals of that beautiful city of palaces, transacting the various interests of commerce and carrying the people to the market, church or opera. Compare such means of transportation with those afforded in the United States at present, particularly since electric powers have been developed, and you no doubt feel that the days should be long to accomplish much. Wonderful advantages are experienced by the American people—it only taking a few hours now to travel between St. Paul, Minneapolis and Chicago, St. Louis or Kansas City, or between any two points in a single state. The Minneapolis and St. Louis Railway reaches all points in Central Iowa, Central Southern Minnesota, and reaches Watertown, S. D., as well as running through trains to Chicago, St. Louis, Kansas City, Denver, etc. Call on any railway agent, or address C. M. Pratt, General Ticket and Passenger Agent, Minneapolis, Minn.

Ten eight hour bill has been killed by the Minnesota legislature. The farmers do not like the idea of short hours, and claimed that if it was inaugurated they would be unable to get help, hence they voted it down.

The Pintsch System of Lighting Passenger Trains with Gas.

The Pintsch system of lighting by means of compressed gas is pronounced by competent judges to be the best known means of car illumination. It is safe under any and all circumstances. It is not affected by atmospheric changes. Burns more steadily than any other light in use. Although very brilliant it is soft and agreeable. It emits no smoke, is odorless and perfectly clean.

It is so effective and evenly distributed that travelers in any part of the car can read easily and comfortably.

It is simple in operation, absolutely reliable and of constant quality. Although this system has been in use on some of the leading lines in the East and in Europe for some time, the credit of first introducing it in the northwest belongs to "The North-Western Line"—C., St. P. & M. & O. Railway.

The vestibuled trains on this line, leaving Minneapolis at 6:50 p. m., St. Paul, 7:30 p. m., daily, for Chicago and Milwaukee, are lighted throughout with this gas.

In addition to the superior arrangement and comfort of the sleeping cars on the vestibuled limited, this brilliant light adds to the appearance of the car, and passengers have expressed themselves as delighted with this method of lighting.

The Chicago, St. Paul, Minneapolis & Omaha Company is now constructing a plant in Minneapolis for the manufacture of Pintsch Gas in order to supply the entire passenger equipment.

No line keeps its equipment more completely up to the latest standard than does "The North-Western Line," and it has never failed to provide any improvement likely to add to the comfort, safety or pleasure of through travel.

Full Pocket-Book.

It weakens an argument to "prove too much," but it was no suspicion of weakness that troubled the holder of this portmanteau when its feminine owner claimed it. She gave more proof than he had time to hear. "I read in to-day's papers that a pocket-book had been left here by the finder, and I called to ask about it; I have lost mine," said a woman in a newspaper office the other day.

"Yes, ma'am," replied the clerk in attendance. "Will you please describe the contents of the pocket-book you lost?"

"Well, now—let me see. I think I can name everything that was in my purse. There was a dollar bill, two ten-cent pieces, one or two nickels, two or three coppers, some postage stamps, some silk samples, a small sample of yellow floss, a pearl-handled glove-button, a little poem entitled 'Baby's Bath,' a recipe for sweet pickles, a lock of baby's hair, a car ticket, a sample of lace, a memorandum of things I wanted to get, a row of pins, a funny little joke cut from a newspaper, a small pearl button, a brass tag, several addresses, a tiny lead-pencil, a Canadian dime with a hole in it, a small rubber-eraser, and five or six other little things that I can't—Oh, thank you! Yes, that's my pocket-book."

And the pocket book he handed her was three and a half inches long by two and a half wide, and half an inch thick.

Named Them After the Lord.

Old Pete Robinson, who lives at Woshum, Va., is a pious negro, who taught his wife to read for many years, naming a new baby every year until seventeen unbleached olive branches bore Scriptural names. Then came a surprise. One morning the Presbyterian minister, while taking his constitutional, met Pete.

"Good morning, Peter. You seem to be very much pleased at something."

"Yes, sah, I is. You see, de ole 'oman 'crossed de family las' night."

"Ah, indeed?"

"Yes, sah, dar's two mo' little lam's ov de Lord."

"Indeed! And what will you name them?"

"Gwine name 'em both arter de Lord; gwine call 'em Messiah and Halloway."

"Messiah and Halloway? Where do you get de name Halloway?"

"Hi, man! Don't de Lord's prar say 'Halloway be Thy name'?"

THE FIGURE "9."

The figure 9 in our dates will make a long stay. So man or woman now living will ever date a moment without using the figure 9. It stands in the third place in 1890, where it will remain ten years and then move up to second place in 1900, where it will rest for one hundred years.

There is another "9" which has also come to stay. It is unlike the figure 9 in our dates in the respect that it has already moved up to first place, where it will permanently remain. It is called the "No. 9" High Arm Wheeler & Wilson Sewing Machine.

The "No. 9" was endorsed for first place by the Imperial Exposition at Paris, Exposition of 1889, where, after a severe contest with the leading machines of the world, it was awarded the only Grand Prize at Paris was awarded it as the grandest advance in sewing machine mechanism of the age. Those who buy it can rest assured, then, of having the very latest and best.

I know them to be positively harmless and safe for all kinds of exposure on from any cause. I have them in my practice for the last four years, and found that the most snobbish cases yield. Yours, R. Each one of the three hose houses will be connected with the pump house and by touching a button a gong will be set in motion which will ring for six minutes. As it is now many times the pump house is only notified of fire after some one has gone there in person, the telephone being unreliable.

An ingenious youth down in Iowa tied a thread to a nickel, dropped the nickel in a slot machine, got what he wanted, then withdrew the nickel by the thread, repeated the operation until he had made a clean sweep of the receptacle's contents. He was arrested on a charge of theft, but the judge who tried him held that he had neither committed burglary, larceny, nor robbery, nor even obtained property under false pretenses. He had merely done what the inscription on the machine told him, to drop a nickel in the slot and had kept on doing it. Nothing was said about leaving the coin where it dropped.

The removal of the Chippewa Indians of this vicinity has been commenced, beginning with the Mille Lacs and Gull Lake bands. James Dasey has instituted an action against the Northern Pacific Railroad company to recover $10,000 damages. Dasey was struck by a caboose while in the act of coupling it to a train at Staple. It is claimed the caboose was put in motion without warning, and caught him when his back was turned toward it, and resulted in the permanent injury to his left hand.

Daniel Sully.

Daniel Sully, the popular Irish comedian comes to the opera house this evening in his new play "The Millionaire," of which the San Francisco Post says:

Packed houses have been the rule at the Bush Street Theater during the week, and many who went to see Daniel Sully in "The Millionaire" were so pleased that they will go again next week, which will be the last of the engagement. "The Millionaire" is an admirably constructed play, cleverly combining humor, pathos and sensational realism. It has made a decided hit at the Bush, for it is undoubtedly one of the best pieces of its kind ever produced on this coast. Dan Sully's scene with the child in the first act of the play is as refined and delicate as any that has been seen upon the stage. Mr. Sully is devoid of all affectation, and never strains to make a point. He is conversant and congenial in his acting all the way through. The pathos which he infuses into his story to the child is indeed very touching. "The Millionaire" is splendidly mounted at the Bush, the details having been so carefully attended to that there does seem to be any room for improvement. The great railroad scene is, of course, the most realistic one in "The Millionaire," and it must be seen to be appreciated. When the blast is exploded and Sully saves the child the boom of the giant powder seems to shake the timbers of the theatre.

Wednesday's Shoot.

PETER WALTERS.

The Sewer Apportion.

The matter of putting in a sewer from the county jail buildings to connect with that at the Arlington Hotel has been the subject of considerable discussion during the past week, but from present indications it is doubtful if the city council will sanction the scheme if they are supposed to help bear the expense. While the cost would be a nominal sum, as only about 600 feet of pipe would have to be laid, the council think the county should bear the expense if they deem the enterprise a necessary one. On the other hand the city jail would reap the same benefits from the sewers as the county buildings do. There is no doubt but that a system of sewers in the place mentioned would be a very good thing, in fact really necessary, and will have to be constructed sooner or later, as at present the refuse and filth of the jail buildings are run into cess pools which have to be constructed every year or two.

The Two Sisters.

THE STORY.

Mary and Martha Howard, two country girls, drift to New York City in search of work. Martha, the eldest, is a bit of a coquette, and her modest sister, Wendie, their way towards their destination, chance sends over the same pathway a thoughtless young villain known as "Handsome Harry," whose attentions are of such imprudent character that the girls seek shelter in an unpretentious hotel that lies nearly opposite the home of their pursuer. In this hotel lives our hero, Hiram Pepper, "just home again" from Montana, where he has been for twenty years fortune hunting. He sees the girls when they enter the hotel; sees Harry Horton as he follows them; takes in the situation at a glance, and tries to separate the unwelcome fascination that has taken hold of them; but not blood is rebellious, and instead of cooling, it fanned itself into a flame. It started as a fancy, grew to a restless passion, which fed on promises and ended in shame. Instead of taking her to his heart's home, he took her to his lodgings his mistress. Then came the days of repentance, remorse and separation. She wandered afar. The sunshine of her life departed, and the lamps of desolation were dimly lighted in the distance. Pure to her unholo love, there came a babe to cheer her, while she cared for it. She saw it growing weaker each day, and said to her heart before it had anything but love to give for its birthright. Deep distresses came upon Martha, and she could only look for rest under the dark waters. The big heart of Hiram Pepper was touched by the innocent face of Mary Howard, and his life was heavy with love for this pure young girl; he, however, bore his burden alone—silently, faithfully. But Cupid tripped up his heels on summer's night, and he blundered into telling her of his love, when he found a mate—honest, pure and sincere. Martha's pilgrimage to Mary is full of pathos. She went that she might seek forgiveness and go to rest peacefully. She did not meet angry faces and clenched hands driving her back in the darkness. She found faithful watching hearts waiting for her. She was made to believe that men had as much right to forgive as God, and she was again a living, breathing woman that had a right to exist. Harry's father heard of his son's treachery to this simple girl, and he turned from him, and Harry Horton became a pariah, drifting lower and lower each day until the quick poison of retribution handed him back to the earth he had frowned upon.

The above will be produced by the Original New York Company at the opera house May 13th.

What a Close Shave Means.

Do you know what a close shave means? I never did until I looked the other day through a microscope at a face which had been treated to this shaving process. Why, the entire skin resembled a piece of raw beef. To make the face perfectly smooth requires not only the removal of the hair, but also a portion of the cuticle, and a close shave means the removal of a layer of skin all around. The blood vessels thus exposed are not visible to the eye, but under the microscope each little quivering mouth holding a minute blood clot protests against such treatment. The nerve tips are also uncovered, and the pores are left unprotected, which makes the skin tender and unhealthy. This sudden exposure of the inner layer of the skin renders a person liable to have colds, hoarseness and sore throat.

Victoria's Love for Babies.

Queen Victoria's love for babies by no means diminishes with her ever-increasing number of grandchildren. Indeed, the latest addition to the royal brood, which she adores, has her skin resembled a piece of raw beef. To make the face perfectly smooth requires not only the removal of the hair, but also a portion of the cuticle, and a close shave means the removal of a layer of skin all around. The blood vessels thus exposed are not visible to the eye, but under the microscope each little quivering mouth holding a minute blood clot protests against such treatment. The nerve tips are also uncovered, and the pores are left unprotected, which makes the skin tender and unhealthy. This sudden exposure of the inner layer of the skin renders a person liable to have colds, hoarseness and sore throat.

A Paste Which Will Stick Anything.

A paste which will stick anything is said by Professor Wachtel to be made as follows: Take two ounces of clear gum arabic, one and a half ounces of fine starch, and half an ounce of white sugar. Dissolve the gum arabic in as much water as the laundress would use for the quantity of starch indicated. Mix the starch and sugar with the mucilage. Then cook the mixture in a vessel suspended in boiling water until the starch becomes clear. The cement should be as thick as tar, and kept so. It can be kept from spoiling by the addition of camphor or a little oil of cloves.

Each one of the three houses will be connected with the pump house and by touching a button a gong will be set in motion which will ring for six minutes. As it is now many times the pump house is only notified of fire after some one has gone there in person, the telephone being unreliable.

An ingenious youth down in Iowa tied a thread to a nickel, dropped the nickel in a slot machine, got what he wanted, then withdrew the nickel by the thread, repeated the operation until he had made a clean sweep of the receptacle's contents. He was arrested on a charge of theft, but he had neither committed burglary, larceny, nor robbery, nor even obtained property under false pretenses. He had merely done what the inscription on the machine told him, to drop a nickel in the slot and had kept on doing it. Nothing was said about leaving the coin where it dropped.

The removal of the Chippewa Indians of this vicinity has been commenced, beginning with the Mille Lacs and Gull Lake bands. The former do not take kindly to removal, and less than a dozen families have so far consented, but agents say that as soon as sugar making is past, which is now in progress, all will willingly go, except a few who have decided to take land there in severalty. The Gull Lacs are all going, and about 100 have been shipped to-night. All go to White Earth reservation for permanent location. On Wednesday six loads of the natives with their household effects passed through Brainerd for their new location.

One of the prisoners broke out of the city jail on Monday night.

Justus Gray has sold his saloon business to Crommett & Osgood.

Dan Caffery returned to Brainerd from Grand Rapids on Saturday.

Mrs. Clyde Warner is in the city from Hamline, visiting her mother.

A railroad track is laid complete in "The Millionaire," Dan'l Sully's new play.

The Millionaire is said to be the best play Dan'l Sully has ever appeared in.

Mrs. C. D. Parker, of Minneapolis, is in the city visiting her mother, Mrs. Grandmeyer.

A burning chimney at the Methodist parsonage called the department out on Monday evening.

H. D. Simons has been drawn as a petit juror for the May term of the United States court at Duluth.

Active operations on several of the new buildings mentioned in the last issue have already been commenced.

The rail road building scene in the second act of "The Millionaire" is said to be one of the most realistic scenes ever put upon the stage.

The synopsis of "The Millionaire" includes the blasting of Rocky Gorge. The completion of a line of railroad, and the driving of the golden spike.

Wild ducks were never known to be more plentiful than this spring, but the present game laws do not allow them to be molested at this time of the year.

The old smoke stack at the shops which burned out last fall, is being taken down and a new one will be erected in its place which will be considerable higher.

Quite extensive repairs have been made at the N. P. freight office in this city, and Agent Bradford now prides himself on as convenient and well arranged quarters as any point on the road.

An invitation to the business men and our friends and their families to come and take supper with us is cordially extended. Cards of admission 25c. Mrs. L. E. Fox, Sec'y.

James Dasey has instituted an action against the Northern Pacific Railroad company to recover $10,000 damages. Dasey was struck by a caboose while in the act of coupling it to a train at Staple. It is claimed the caboose was put in motion without warning, and caught him when his back was turned toward it, and resulted in the permanent injury to his left hand.

Daniel Sully.

Daniel Sully, the popular Irish comedian, comes to the opera house this evening in his new play "The Millionaire," of which the San Francisco Post says:

Packed houses have been the rule at the Bush Street Theater during the week, and many who went to see Dan Sully in "The Millionaire" were so pleased that they will go again next week, which will be the last of the engagement. "The Millionaire" is an admirably constructed play, cleverly combining humor, pathos and sensational relief. It has made a decided hit at the Bush, for it is undoubtedly one of the best pieces of its kind ever produced on this coast. Dan Sully's scene with the child in the first act of the play is as refined and delicate as any that has been seen upon the stage. Mr. Sully is devoid of all affectation, and never strains to make a point. He is earnest and convincing in his acting all the way through. The pathos which he refuses into his story to the child is indeed very touching. "The Millionaire" is splendidly mounted at the Bush, the details having been so carefully attended to that there does seem to be any room for improvement. The great railroad scene is, of course, the most realistic one in "The Millionaire," and it must be seen to be appreciated. When the blast is exploded and Sully saves the child the boom of the giant powder seems to shake the timbers of the theatre.

The Sewer Apitiation.

The matter of putting in a sewer from the county jail buildings to connect with that at the Arlington Hotel has been the subject of considerable discussion during the past week, but from present indications it is doubtful if the city council will sanction the scheme, if they are supposed to help bear the expense. While the cost would be a nominal sum, as only about 600 feet of pipe would have to be laid, the council think the county should bear the expense if they deem the enterprise a necessary one. On the other hand the city jail would reap the same benefits from the sewers as the county buildings do. There is no doubt but that a system of sewers in the place mentioned would be a very good thing, in fact really necessary, and will have to be constructed sooner or later, as at present the refuse and filth of the jail buildings are run into cess pools which have to be constructed every year or two.

The Two Sisters.

THE STORY.

Mary and Martha Howard, two country girls, drift to New York City in search of work. Martha, the eldest, is a flirt—just the opposite of her modest sister. Wending their way towards their destination, chance sends over the same pathway a thoughtless young villain known as "Handsome Harry," whose attentions are of such an imprudent character that the girls seek shelter in an unpretentious hotel that lies nearly opposite the home of their pursuer. In this hotel her hero, Hiram Pepper, "just home again from Montana, where he has been for twenty years fortune hunting." He sees the girls when they enter the hotel; sees Harry Horton as he follows them; takes in the situation at a glance, and tries to separate the unwelcome fascination that has taken hold of them; but their blood is rebellious, and instead of cooling, it fanned itself into a flame. It started as a fancy, grew to a resistless passion, which fed on promises and ended in tears. Instead of talking her to his heart's wife, he took her to his lodgings his mistress. Then came the days of repentance, remorse and separation. She wandered afar. The shining life departed, and the languor of desolation were dimly lighted in the distance. Pure to her untold love, there came a babe to chide her, while she caressed it. She saw it growing weaker each day, and it died in her arms before it had anything but love to give for its birthright. Deep distresses came upon Martha, and she could only look for rest under the dark waters. The big heart of Hiram Pepper was touched by the innocent face of Mary Howard, and his life was heavy with love for this pure young girl; he, however, bore his burden alone—silently, faithfully. But Cupid tripped up his heels one summer's night, and he blundered into telling her of his love, when he found a mate—honest, pure and sincere. Martha's pilgrimage to Mary's father heard of his son's treachery to this simple girl, and she turned from him, and Harry Horton became a pariah, drifting lower and lower each day until the quick poison of retribution had found him back to the earth he had frowned upon.

The above will be produced by the original New York Company at the opera house May 13th.

There appears to be very little interest taken in the approaching election.

It is understood that Mayor Wheatley will not make any effort to be re-elected to his present position.

The election of an assessor will be the only thing which will live the campaign from present appearances.

It is a very peculiar thing that a game law cannot be framed which will meet with the requirements of the country and conform to the wishes of a majority of those who enjoy the sport of hunting instead of the pot hunters. The Battle Lake Review expresses the true sentiment when it says: "We learn that an amendment to the opening season for ducks from August 25th to April 25th. If such a law is passed it will take but a few years to settle the duck question in this state. Allow the market hunter to sneak around the little ponds and pick off the old birds in the spring, and there will be no need of a game law of any kind in the near future. Better prohibit the killing of game of all kinds for the next three or five years, than pass a bill like the one now under consideration. Game is not plenty in this state, and what there is should be protected from the market hunter."

Canfield's Latest.

The following telegram has been sent from this city to the St. Paul papers:

A mysterious railroad survey is in progress, passing this city north and south, that give rise to belief that a big race is on to tap the country to the north, in the Grand Rapids direction, toward the boundary region. The line crosses the Northern Pacific, east of this place, near Red Cedar, and the stakes as set thus indicate that more than 50 miles of line had been run. The line crosses the Mississippi near the mouth of Willow, and the party was yesterday on Little Willow, in the Grand Rapids direction. From appearances the line has come from Milaca, or some point east of St. Cloud, and passed along the west shore of Lake Lac Seul. This would indicate that it was a Great Northern line, and heading for a short cut to Winnipeg, perhaps as a forestallment of the Duluth & Winnipeg. If this is true, it is so palpable an invasion of Northern Pacific territory that the fur is sure to fly, and our people would expect to see the Northern Pacific push out immediately for a short line north from this city.

Late News Notes.

There were only twelve cases of drunkenness before the courts at Fergus Falls during the past year.

Average daily wages paid brick layers in England is $1.20; average daily wages in the United States $3.50.

A woman of Salford, Sweden, has presented her husband, a laborer, with five daughters in 14 months, the first lot being twins and the last triplets.

It is not a record creditable to the railroads of our country that more people were killed by the last year than in any preceding year, and that there was an increase of 70 per cent. in the employees killed.

Up to date, 18 states have made appropriations for making exhibits at the Big Fair. The largest sum is given by Pennsylvania, $300,000. The smallest sum is $5,000, voted by Vermont. The average is $65,000.

It is estimated that there are in this country three million people supported wholly or partly by charity—or one in 20 of the population. This is bad, but the condition of people is worse in most other countries. How to treat this matter of pauperism is one of the great questions of the hour.

A storekeeper at Glenmore, Montgomery county, Pa., recently had two dozen boxes of axle-grease stolen from his place, and making an investigation, traced the theft to some Hungarians employed in a neighboring quarry. He visited their huts one day, and was schooled to find a box of his axle-grease on the table and Hungarians eating it on their bread in place of butter with great gusto.

The president of the Texas alliance says that the order in that state will not go into politics. So in other southern states. Southern alliance men will stand by the democratic party. The president of the alliance of the greatest state in the Union ought to know what he is talking about. It is in the northern states the alliance will have regular tickets in the field, with the object, of course, of defeating the republican party.

Dispatches state that Frank Murray, a Northern Pacific brakeman, is being held at Breckenridge on a charge of indecent assault preferred by a Miss Biese. She charges that he took advantage of the fact that she and a friend were the only occupants of a car on the night of April 10th, and locked the doors, lowered the lights and annoyed her greatly.

The Northern Pacific Railroad company having secured the contract to carry the mails between St. Paul and the coast for the ensuing year has made arrangements to put on the fastest train ever run across the continent. The time to be made between terminals is to be something phenomenal, the attention at present contemplated being to make the distance in sixty hours. It will be a special train service independent of and in addition to the regular trains of the road, and will be known as "The White Mail," the cars to be attached to the engine to be painted pure white.—Northwest Magazine.

The republicans and alliance men combined and defeated the democrats in the house yesterday on the Keyes' election bill. As the bill is now an X will have to be put after each name voted for.

Not a Black Maria.

The method of getting around in the City of Venice is through the use of small boats called gondolas, and all painted black, the sombre color being maintained through some superstition that dates back several hundred years. These little boats are skillfully maneuvered among the many little islands and through the winding canals of that beautiful city of palaces, transacting the various interests of commerce and carrying the people to the market, church or opera. Compare such means of transportation with those afforded in the United States at present, particularly since electric powers have been developed, and you no doubt feel that the days should be long to accomplish much. Wonderful advantages are experienced by the American people—it only taking a few hours now to travel between St. Paul, Minneapolis and Chicago, St. Louis or Kansas City, or between any two points in a single state. The Minneapolis and St. Louis Railway reaches all points in Central Iowa, Central Southern Minnesota, and reaches Watertown, S. D., as well as running through trains to Chicago, St. Louis, Kansas City, Denver, etc. Call on any railway agent, or address C. M. Pratt, General Ticket and Passenger Agent, Minneapolis, Minn.

The eight hour bill has been killed by the Minnesota legislature. The farmers did not like the idea of short hours, and claimed that if it was inaugurated they would be unable to get help, hence they voted it down.

The Pintsch System of Lighting Passenger Trains with Gas. The Pintsch system of lighting by means of compressed gas is pronounced by competent judges to be the best known means of car illumination. It is safe under any and all circumstances. It is not affected by atmospheric changes. Burns more steadily than any other light in use. Although very brilliant it is soft and agreeable. It emits no smoke, is odorless and perfectly clean.

It is so effective and evenly distributed that travelers in any part of the car can read easily and comfortably. It is simple in operation, absolutely reliable and of constant quality.

Although this system has been in use on some of the leading lines in the East and in Europe for some time, the credit of first introducing it in the northwest belongs to "The North-Western Line"—C. St. P. M. & O. Railway.

The vestibuled trains on this line, leaving Minneapolis at 6:50 p. m., St. Paul, 7:30 p. m.; daily, for Chicago and Milwaukee, are lighted throughout with this gas.

In addition to the superior arrangement and comfort of the sleeping cars on the vestibuled limited, this brilliant light adds to the appearance of the car, and passengers have expressed themselves as delighted with this method of lighting.

The Chicago, St. Paul, Minneapolis & Omaha Company is now constructing a plant in Minneapolis for the manufacture of Pintsch Gas in order to supply the entire passenger equipment.

No line keeps its equipment more completely up to the latest standard than does "The North-Western Line" and it has never failed to provide any improvement likely to add to the comfort, safety or pleasure of through travel.

Full Pocket-Book.

It weakens an argument to "prove too much," but it was no suspicion of weakness that troubled the holder of this portmanteau when its feminine owner claimed it. She gave more proof than he had time to hear. "I read in to-day's papers that a pocket-book had been left here by the finder, and I called to ask about it; I have lost mine," said a woman in a newspaper office the other day.

"Yes, ma'am," replied the clerk in attendance. "Will you please describe the contents of the pocket-book you lost?"

"Well, now—let me see. I think I can name everything that was in my purse. There was a dollar bill, two ten-cent pieces, one or two nickels, two or three coppers, some postage stamps, some silk samples, a small sample of yellow does, a pearl-handled glove-button, a line poem entitled 'Baby's Bath,' a recipe for sweet pickles, a lock of baby's hair, a car ticket, a sample of lace, a memorandum of things I wanted to get, a row of pins, a funny little joke cut from a newspaper, a small pearl button, a brass tag, several addresses, a tiny lead-pencil, a Canadian dime with a hole in it, a small rubber-eraser, and five or six other little things that I can't—Oh, thank you! Yes, that's my pocket-book."

And the pocket-book he handed her was three and a half inches long by two and a half wide, and half an inch thick.

Named Them After the Lord.

Old Pete Robinson, who lives at Woomah, Va., is a pious negro, who jogs along with his wife for many years, naming a new baby every year until seventeen unbleached olive branches bore Scriptural names. Then came a surprise. One morning the Presbyterian minister, while taking his constitutional, met Pete.

"Good morning, Peter. You seem to be very much pleased at something."

"Yes, sah, I is. You see, de ole 'oman 'cashed de family las' night."

"Ah, indeed?"

"Yes, sah, dar's two mo' little lam's or de Lord."

"Indeed! And what will you name them?"

"Gwine name 'em both arter de Lord; gwine call 'em Messiah and Halloway."

"Messiah and Halloway! Where do you get de name Halloway?"

"Hi, man! Don't de Lord's prair say 'Halloway be Thy name'?"

The figure 9 in our dates will make a long stay. So man or woman now living will ever date a document without using the figure 9. It stands in the third place in 1890, where it will remain ten years and then move up to second place in 1900, where it will rest for one hundred years.

There is another "9" which has also come to stay. It is unlike the figure 9 in our dates in the respect that it has already moved up to first place, where it will permanently remain. It is called the "No. 9" High Arm Wheeler & Wilson Sewing Machine.

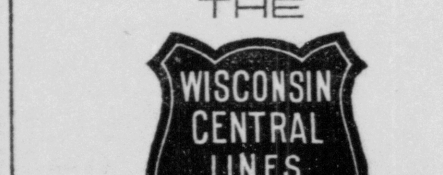

The "No. 9" was endorsed for first place by the experts of Europe at the Paris Exposition of 1889, where, after a severe contest with the leading machines of the world, it was awarded the only Grand Prize given to any sewing machine, all others on exhibit having received lower awards of gold medals, etc. The French Government also recognized its superiority by the decoration of Mr. Nathaniel Wheeler, President of the company, with the Cross of the Legion of Honor.

The "No. 9" is not an old machine improved upon, but is an entirely new machine, and the Grand Prize at Paris was awarded it as the grandest advance in sewing machine mechanism of the age. Those who buy it can rest assured, therefore, of having the very latest and best.

PLON-PLON'S death recalls his invitation of Rachel, the actress, to a supper at which one of her fellow guests was Khalil Bey. She was herself affronted at the openly expressed distaste of the oriental for her personal appearance. Rachel as used to be said of Sarah Bernhardt in the early days of her career, possessed "much grace, but no grace," and the angular bones and bony chest of the queen of the Parisian stage were not at all to the taste of the "What you think of her?" asked his host of him to ward of the end of the evening. "Dear prince, in my own country we drown such women as that," was the reply. Rachel overheard him, and naturally she never forgave him.

AS English philosopher has discovered that in the little life the average number of men is decreasing, and that that of women is on the increase. The reason for this phenomenon is attributed to the fact that the male sex tobacco in early youth, thus stunting their growth, while the females, who are not so generally addicted to the habit, escape its evil effects. This statement should be hailed with joy by the fair sex. As most men would sooner go without a wife than without their tobacco, the tendency herein discovered will continue until men will be mere puppets, playthings and pets of the opposite sex. When a woman tells you she is a nonsmoker, smoke, etc., etc., look out for her. She has been reading the views of this English philosopher, and is doing her best to aid in the physical and mental degeneration of man.

A Tale of Assurance. A well-dressed portly gentleman, apparently from the country, entered a life insurance office recently, and expressed a wish to have his life insured. He was asked to give a list of his relatives, and in charge of a couple of clerks, who, with a party of friends, were "making merrie." Giving each other the wink, they proceeded forthwith to "examine" the applicant. One of them, who styled himself the "Manager," addressed him as follows:

"Were you ever ill?"
"Yes, sir."
"How long since?"
"Thirty-three years and a half."
"What was your disease?"
"The measles."
"How long were you confined to your bed?"
"One whole night."

Addressing one of his companions: "Satisfactory on the score of health. Now, sir, we will, please, to examine your body. You will please to divest yourself of your clothing."
"Do what, sir?"
"Strip yourself."
The applicant grumbled a little, but at length yielded, and soon presented an appearance befitting a sandal. The "Manager" then proceeded to test his strength, by giving him sundry boxes and bundles to lift. This was followed by a test of agility, running, jumping, and so forth. The poor victim, utterly ignorant of the trick, went through the ordeal very seriously. For three hours the proposition was continued, and the applicant, "The Commies," then pronounced "rejected," because he could not jump six feet on a level. He was hurried on to the next examination, having probably had enough of the insurance.

SEVEN DISTRICTS.

How the State is to be Redistricted
When the New Craig Bill Becomes a Law.

Tables Showing the Population of the Counties in the Districts and the Total Vote.

One of the most important pieces of legislation which has been accomplished by the present legislature is the redistricting of the state into seven districts, to conform to the act of congress by which Minnesota is to have seven instead of five congressmen.

The bill, which was introduced by Senator Fitzgerald, and which has been passed by the house, is now in the senate. It is expected that it will become a law, but its form has been agreed upon and it will probably be passed without a dissenting vote.

The basis of the bill is the population according to the census of 1900. The second census map gives a clear idea of the districts as they will be under the new regime. There is no change in the First district, except that Waseca county is added to it.

The Second district comprises Chippewa county, and also Waseca, Chippewa and Le Sueur counties. The Third district comprises Chippewa, Kandiyohi and Stearns counties, and also Le Sueur and Sibley.

The Fourth and Fifth districts are identical. Hennepin county is put into a district by itself. Ramsey is added to it. Washington, Chicago, Isanti, Kanabec, and the counties comprising the proposed new Fourth district. The irregular appearance of the Fourth district is accounted for by the fact that the Anoka people objected to being placed in this district, claiming that their interests would be sacrificed to those of the Sixth district than those of the Fourth.

The following tables give the names of the counties comprising each district as named in the bill, together with the population:

First district. Second district. Third district. Fourth district. Fifth district. Sixth district. Seventh district.

At Lynn, Mass., the morocco workers have abandoned their strike, which began last August and affected 15,000 men at one time. The strike is a total failure.

POLITICAL.

The result of the late election at Detroit is held in doubt by the slowness with which the census returns are coming in.

It is stated at Winnipeg that the Northern Pacific has offered to sell out its whole system in Manitoba to the Canadian Pacific railway. There is a probability that the offer will be accepted.

The competition among the fast freight lines to secure a shipment from Topeka of thirty cars of flour to London and European ports has resulted in a cut under the regular rate. One line, the Erie, has cut nine cents. Then the Empire line slipped in and met the latter cut by the Erie.

The fast freight line men say this is only a sample of cut rates to the seaboard, the result of the competition.

THE TROUBLESOME ANTS.

He Can be Gotten Rid of By the Freezing-Off Process.

The inhabitants of cold climates have often been troubled by the ants, and the ant bite has been a source of annoyance from time immemorial between man and the ant bite, and can hardly appreciate the extraordinary capacity shown by these tireless insects in their depredations upon the human race.

THE TROUBLESOME ANTS.

Even in more temperate regions like some parts of our Southern States ants are troublesome enemies, and the suggestion made in the "Prose and Poetry" published at Colombo, in Ceylon, may be worth trying in some parts of this country.

The suggestion is that ants be frozen off by means of a cask of the freezing mixture used by engineers in excavating in quicksands fixed over the entrance of the nest.

Mrs. Clyde Warner is in the city from Hamline, visiting her mother.

A railroad track is laid complete in "The Millionaire," Dan'l Sully's new play.

The Millionaire is said to be the best play Dan'l Sully has ever appeared in.

Mrs. C. D. Parker, of Minneapolis, is in the city visiting her mother, Mrs. Grandmeyer.

A burning chimney at the Methodist parsonage called the department out on Monday evening.

H. D. Simons has been drawn as a petit juror for the May term of the United States court at Duluth.

Active operations on several of the new buildings mentioned in the last issue have already been commenced.

The rail road building scene in the second act of "The Millionaire" is said to be one of the most realistic scenes ever put upon the stage.

The synopsis of "The Millionaire" includes the blasting of Rocky Gorge. The completion of a line of railroad, and the driving of the golden spike.

Wild ducks were never known to be more plentiful than this spring, but the present game laws do not allow them to be molested at this time of the year.

The old smoke stack at the shops which burned out last fall, is being taken down and a new one will be erected in its place which will be considerable higher.

Quite extensive repairs have been made at the N. P. freight office in this city, and Agent Bradford now prides himself on as convenient and well arranged quarters as any point on the road.

James Dasey has instituted an action against the Northern Pacific Railroad company to recover $10,000 damages. Dasey was struck by a caboose while in the act of coupling it to a train at Staple. It is claimed the caboose was put in motion without warning, and caught him when his back was turned toward it, and resulted in the permanent injury to his left hand.

Daniel Sully, the popular Irish comedian comes to the opera house this evening in his new play "The Millionaire," of which the San Francisco Post says:

Packed houses have been the rule at the Bush Street Theater during the week, and many who went to see Daniel Sully in "The Millionaire" were so pleased that they will go again next week, which will be the last of the engagement. "The Millionaire" is an admirably constructed play, cleverly combining humor, pathos and sensational relief. It has made a decided hit at the Bush, for it is undoubtedly one of the best pieces of its kind ever produced on this coast. Dan Sully's scene with the child in the first act of the play is as refined and delicate as any that has been seen upon the stage. Mr. Sully is devoid of all affectation, and never strains to make a point. He is earnest and convincing in everything he says. The pathos which he infuses into his story to the child is indeed very touching. "The Millionaire" is splendidly mounted at the Bush, the details having been so carefully attended to that there does seem to be any room for improvement. The great realistic scene is, of course, the most realistic one "The Millionaire," and it must be seen to be appreciated. When the blast is exploded and Sully saves the child the boom of the giant powder seems to shake the timbers of the theatre.

PETER WALTERS.

The Sewer Agitation.

The matter of putting in a sewer from the county jail buildings to connect with that at the Arlington Hotel has been the subject of considerable discussion during the past week, but from present indications it is doubtful if the city council will sanction the scheme if they are supposed to help bear the expense. While the cost would be a nominal sum, as only about 600 feet of pipe would have to be laid, the council think the county should bear the expense if they deem the enterprise a necessary one. On the other hand the city jail would reap the same benefits from the sewers as the county buildings do. There is no doubt but that a system of sewers in the place mentioned would be a very good thing, in fact really necessary, and will have to be constructed sooner or later, as the present refuse and filth of the jail buildings are run into cess pools which have to be constructed every year or two.

Deaths.

WENN—At his residence in East Brainerd, on Tuesday, April 14th, 1891, of pneumonia, D. Bert Webb, aged 24 years.

Deceased was well known in this city and a large circle of friends and relatives mourn his untimely death. He was an employee of the N. P. Co., and in reverence to his memory the shops were closed yesterday afternoon at which time the funeral occurred, which was conducted by Rev. Cable of the Second Congregational church. He was a member of the A. O. U. W., which organization turned turned out in a body to attend the last sad rites. Mr. Webb leaves a wife who has the sympathy of all in her bereavement.

HEADACHES FROM THE EYES.

A Fruitful Cause of Trouble Not Often Suspected.

Among obscure causes of severe and obstinate headaches that physicians have been investigating lately are defects of the eye. In one class cases the headache is traceable directly to the use of the eyes, and is accompanied by such symptoms as weak feeling, watering, strained sensation, and inability to use them for any length of time. In another class of cases the cause of the headache is by no means evident, as the vision is apparently perfect, and the eyes themselves are free from pain, and generally the oculist is called in only as a last resort, after all other attempts to cure the headache have failed. Dr. W. H. Wilmer, of Washington, recently read before the Medical Society of the District of Columbia a paper on cases of the latter class. One patient was a boy who had suffered from frequent headaches since he began straining his eyes attending schools and for three days had had a constant dull pain in the forehead and temples. Upon examination a defect of the eye was discovered, and suitable glasses being given, the headaches stopped. In a second case an elderly man complained of great difficulty in seeing, especially by artificial light, and he also had a more or less constant dull pain in the head, principally in the back part. Proper glasses cured both troubles. Another patient, a Wall street broker, had suffered for years from insomnia and headache, which extended from the back to the top of the head. Prolonged medical treatment did him no relief other than the production of sleep by hypnotics. Glasses to correct defective vision were supplied, and three days afterward the patient reported that he had been free from headache, and had slept without a hypnotic better than he had for years. Dr. Wilmer adds that as the correction of an eye defect will remove the cause of the production of such a defect artificially may cause it. He gives from his own experience an instance of this kind. Some years ago he purchased colored glasses to wear while traveling. For a short time they were agreeable, but in the course of a half hour a headache came on. The glasses were irregularly concave. He says that that smoked glasses, as a rule, should be worn, if a colored glass is necessary at all.

What a Close Shave Means.

Do you know what a close shave means? I never did until I looked the other day through a microscope at a face which had been treated to a luxurious process. Why, the entire skin resembled a piece of raw beef. To make the face perfectly smooth requires not only the removal of the hair, but also a portion of the cuticle, and a close shave means the removal of a layer of skin all around. The blood vessels thus exposed are not visible to the eye, but under the microscope each little quivering mouth holding a minute blood drop protests against such treatment. The nerve tips also uncovered, and the pores are left unprotected, which makes the skin tender and unhealthy. This sudden exposure of the inner layer of the skin renders a person liable to have colds, hoarseness and sore throat.

Victoria's Love for Babies.

Queen Victoria's love for babies by no means diminishes with her ever-increasing number of grandchildren. Indeed, the latest addition to the royal family has been the cause of special interest, and at the present moment it is the new baby of the Duke and Duchess of Sparta, her majesty's latest great-grandson, for whom she exhibits the greatest solicitude. A magnificent cradle has just been dispatched by his royal great-grandmother to the infant, over whose outfit the Queen and the Empress Frederick spent many hours during the latter's sojourn here some weeks ago. By the earnest request of the Queen, the Duke and Duchess of Sparta, will take the baby over to England to see the Queen this month, and the princess Sophie, mother-like, is doubtless only too proud of the opportunity to display her treasure to her English relatives.

A Paste Which Will Stick Anything.

A paste which will stick anything is said by Professor Winchell to be made as follows: Take two ounces of clear gum arabic, one and a half ounces of fine starch, and half an ounce of white sugar. Dissolve the gum arabic in as much water as the launress would use for the quantity of starch indicated. Mix the starch and sugar with the mucilage. Then cook the mixture in a vessel suspended in boiling water until the starch becomes clear. The cement should be as thick as tar, and history can be kept from spoiling by the addition of camphor or a little oil of cloves.

Winning Academic Honors.

Among the other recent academic triumphs of English women must be included that of Miss Ann Frances Flacey, of the London school of Medicine for Women. At the intermediate examination in medicine in the university of London she gained triple first-class honors, taking first place, with exhibition and a gold medal, in materia medica, and second place, with a gold medal, in anatomy. Miss Flacey also excelled in physiology and histology. It was bracketed equal with two male candidates for the first class.

High-Priced Clergymen.

Dr. M. W. Taylor of New York is paid $16,000 a year the largest salary paid to a Congregational minister. Three in Brooklyn, viz., Drs. Lyman Abbott, Storrs, and Behrens, receive $10,000 each. Dr. Gussakow of Chicago has a salary of $8,000 and Dr. Gregg of Boston $7,000.
